Annual Activities Report 2014

English Summarized Version

Fazendo História Institute

Every child grows up with a mind full of stories. And the stories that we believe about ourselves are powerful, they mold the way we live, the choices we make and, in the end, the story we end up writing for ourselves.

For many children that are growing up inside a cycle of poverty, violence, and abandonment, the story that they believe in is like this: You have no future, you have no potential. You are not worthy! This is your world, and if you can survive this reality, be satisfied, be grateful to have a home and food, this is already too much for you!

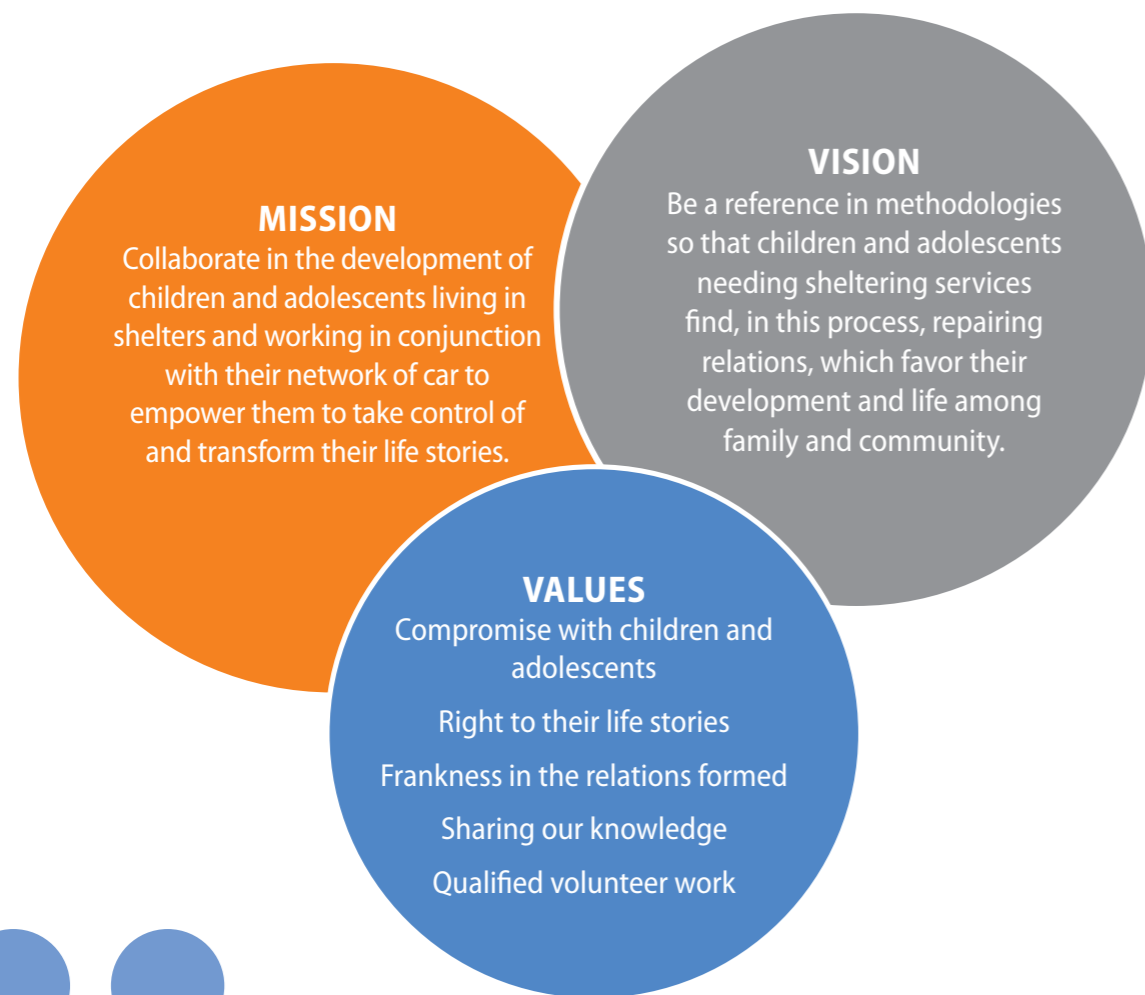

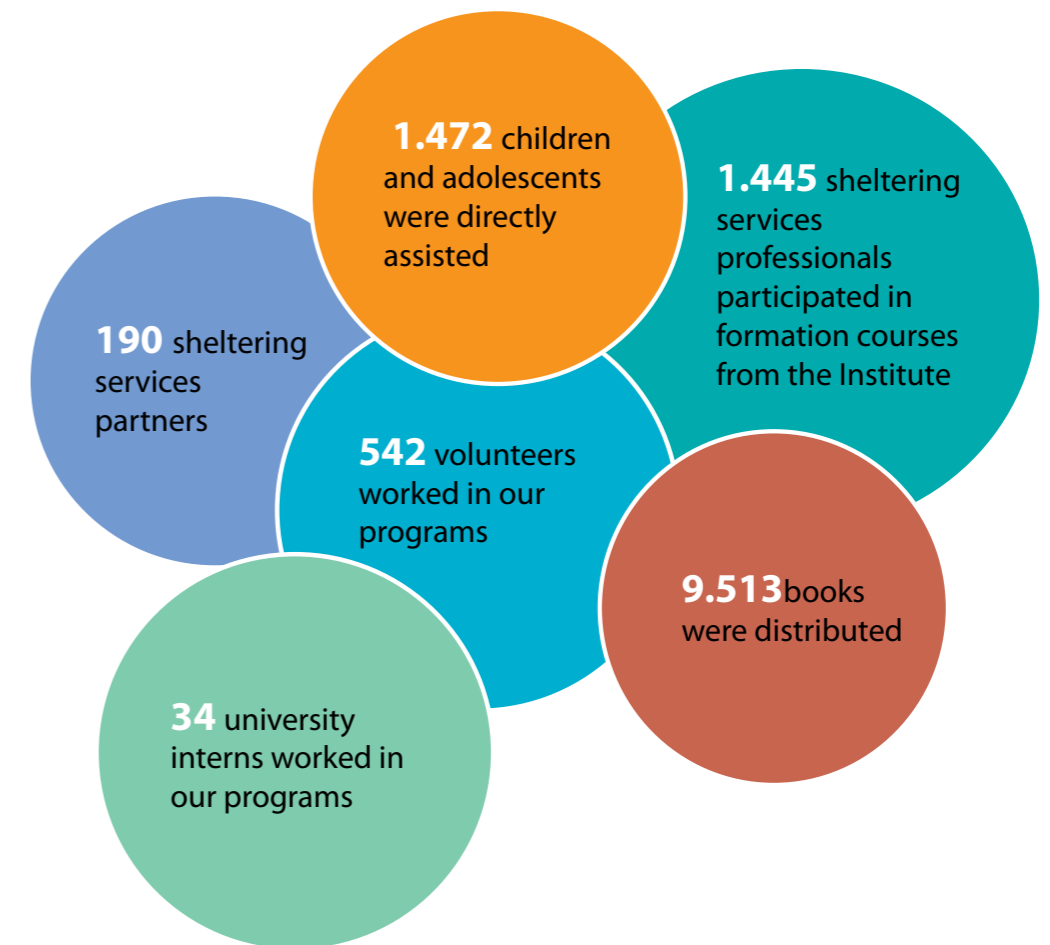

Furthermore, besides having limited resources, the vision and choices of these children also become limited.

But what if someone gives a step ahead and brings a different story? Someone that believes in his worthiness, in his potential, in the right to express himself and in the richness of his possibilities?

During the last ten years, the Fazendo História Institute mobilizes people so that they can approach children and adolescents living in shelters and pursue, in a respectful, caring and loving relationship, to listen and build with them new stories.

In this way, the Fazendo História Institute contributes so that children and adolescents that need to be away from their families can find in the protective measure of the shelter a quality service and a moment of effective reparation.

Sustainability

In order to guarantee the economic sustainability, the Institute finds support in three different areas: quality of executed projects; excellence in management and quality in the communication of our actions.

This is how we maintain long-term partnerships with investors and other partners. The goal is to promote bigger and better qualified changes each time, with the best possible allocation of resources.

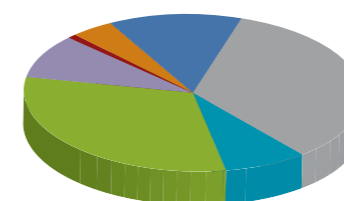

The Fazenda História Institute has a reserve fund of R$ 500.000,00 which is maintained each year, guaranteeing the stability and safety for the continued work.

We have our accountability audited in order to guarantee the transparency in our financial results.
