

Project Name: Dress 4 Success

We believe that self confidence gives you the power to excel. To empower children to carry out their dreams, they need first of all to believe in themselves. Something as small as lack of a school uniform can often be a deterring factor in the lives of children in a rural community. For this reason, Nourish would like to support the Kit-a-Kid initiative from Children's Eco Training, in which, for just R 250.00 a year you can "Kit-a-Kid" with full school clothing, and enable them to go to school with confidence and self respect. This takes the pressure off families who may not have the funding to buy these necessities themselves, and allows the children a chance of an education that they might not otherwise have been privy to. This also allows families to channel low-income wages towards food and healthcare, as basic needs such as school uniforms are now being met.

We are happy to thank our sponsors and donors on our blog/facebook/twitter. We are also happy to send a photograph of the children with their gift vouchers/school uniforms as well as a list of children's names, should it be required.
