Rebuilding Schools Restoring Hope

ABOUT HAPPY HEARTS INDONESIA

Founded in 2005 by Petra Nemcova in the wake of the 2004 Indian Ocean tsunami, Happy Hearts Fund works to restore hope and opportunities to children and communities affected by natural disasters. Happy Hearts Fund recently merged with All Hands Volunteers to become All Hands and Hearts.

Happy Hearts started rebuilding schools in Yogyakarta after the devastating earthquake in 2006. In 2013, Happy Hearts opened its first international chapter in Indonesia under the name Yayasan Hati Gembira Indonesia. In addition to supporting schools impacted by natural disasters, Happy Hearts Indonesia (HHI) is reaching out to underprivileged communities to receive access to proper education.

HOW HAPPY HEARTS INDONESIA WORKS

Education

HHI identifies schools in areas affected by natural disasters and communities in need, rebuilds them in a disaster-proof way. Rebuilt schools are equipped with indoor furniture, outdoor play area, books and educational materials.

Sustainability

HHI fosters a community-oriented business as a programmatic companion to the new schools, thereby ensuring a long-term funding stream for the maintenance and development of the school, and by extension, the community.

School Development Program

HHI collaborates with other organizations and volunteers to provide trainings for teachers and parents.
