THE MIRACLE ORCHARD PROJECT

Background

Brave To Love is a registered non-profit organization that rescues, restore and rehabilitate women and children that were trafficked in South-Africa and neighboring countries. These ladies come out of poor communities and are lured by traffickers by fake job oppertunities or many times a fun night out with friends and waking up in the nightmare of being forced to take drugs and sell their bodies for sex on our streets.

A Second Phase Restoration Home Need

Brave To Love has been working with many wonderful Trafficking In Person (TIP) Safehouses and Drug Rehabs but there is a huge need for second phase houses in South-Africa which are currently non-existent. We have explored a second phase house in the USA and have seen how this a great opportunity in South-Africa. The challenge currently is that the ladies have a limited time they can stay in a safe-house after being rescued and most of the time the family relationships are non-existent or extremely broken, many ladies growing up as orphans.

Restoration and Reintegration Opportunity

The second phase restoration home will give the ladies a limited period of developing skill while living in the home. Depending on the level of education the girl has, a development program will be followed according to her need. There will be a reintegration into a work environment and then back into society.
