

SIXKNM SELF-HELP GROUP

Empowering Adolescents Living with HIV in Kenya

Join us in empowering HIV positive adolescents by training some among them as champions, training teachers, conducting peer outreaches in schools and reaching policy makers in Kenya. This will allow them to support themselves, their peers and their families into the future, help reduce HIV associated stigma and discrimination and enhance self esteem leading to an improved quality of life. Our project aims to reach out to a forgotten disadvantaged population of adolescents living with HIV. Our quest is to bring an approach to HIV prevention that responds to the changing challenges young people face at different ages. By training teachers in schools, training champions drawn from adolescents living with HIV to advance their issues, conducting peer outreaches in schools and having consultative forums to reach out to policy makers, this project will create an enabling environment in schools, reduce stigma and discrimination and enhance adolescents living with HIV self esteem.
