Little Resources, Big Problems

Working is a necessity for most young people. But Youth unemployment rate in Cameroon and Africa keeps increasing month by month and year by year with the job market not being able to keep up with the fresh graduates who need jobs while the unemployed school dropouts are considered flames of high crime wave, terrorism, drug addicts, prostitutes and many other ill acts.

Grow Food, Grow Hope

Agriculture and entrepreneurship are essential drivers of economic, social, and environmental development in Cameroon, Africa. The Network of Agric and Sustainable Leaders for Africa, NASLA, exists to create and develop these two areas to improve the livelihood of young people & their communities.
