UNICEF reports that Pakistan has a huge number of orphans (i.e. 4.6 million). It is even hard to imagine the plight of so many little souls without the loving attention of a mother or the protective care of a father and sometimes both. Alkhidmat Foundation, through its Orphan Family Support Program, is fulfilling all the fundamental parenting needs of the orphans at their homes, who have lost one or both parents and are being brought up by their widow mothers or close relatives and facing problems in getting proper education, food or healthcare facilities. It focuses on assisting the orphans and enables them to fit into the society morally, spiritually and mentally.
