Why We Exist?

Ethiopia is the second most populous country in Africa with more than 100 million residents. In the decade before the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic, Ethiopia achieved remarkable progress in development. The economy was steadily growing at double-digit with an average growth rate of 10%; headcount poverty declined from more than 29.6% in 2010/11 to 23.5% in 2015/16. Nevertheless, Ethiopia is still one of the poorest countries in the world with a per capita income of USD 1092 in 2020/21. The economic growth momentum has also declined to 3.8% and 3.4% in 2019/20 and 1920/21, respectively, which is predicted to decline further to about 2% in 2021/22... Besides poverty and vulnerability is still widespread in different parts of the country. In Ethiopia, Women make up more than half of the total population and make important contributions to the country's socioeconomic development. However, Ethiopian women traditionally have suffered socio-cultural and economic discrimination and have had fewer opportunities than men for personal growth, education, and employment. According to the World Economic Forum (2019) Global Gender Gap Report 2020, Ethiopia ranked 82nd among 153 countries in the Global Gender Gap Index. This wide and pervasive gender gap hinders not only female livelihood but also the potential for poverty alienation and sustainable economic growth on a national level. Although efforts have been made to minimize the gap, still Ethiopian women have been facing a number of challenges. They were neither being offered equal opportunities nor receiving a fair share of the nation's wealth. They were neither being offered equal opportunities nor receiving a fair share of the nation's wealth. On the other hand, growing youth unemployment is a reimagining challenge for countries. Despite efforts made by the government to create jobs for its young and growing population, with approximately 2 million new entrants joining the labor market each year. However still rising youth unemployment, particularly among recent graduates from universities, colleges, and other tertiary institutions is a major concern. Still today, nearly 36 million children in Ethiopia are poor and lack access to basic social services On top of this Orphans and vulnerable children makeup up about 12% of all children in Ethiopia . Malnutrition remains a key challenge in Ethiopia, where 37% of children under the age of five are stunted, 21% are underweight and 7% are wasted. The percentage of stunted, wasted, and underweight is still high even by sub-Saharan African Standard Sector-wise Ethiopia Health sector is among other priority sectors affected by poverty. Despite evident progress toward the improvement of primary health service delivery and other health-related, much remains to be done to produce the desired health outcomes, and address the persistent inequalities and barriers to quality, accessible, and safe, health care services.

. In Ethiopia Still, the healthcare system is characterized by understaffed healthcare systems and shortage of well-trained healthcare workers, lack of access to health services, unaffordability of healthcare, and ill-equipped healthcare systems
Poor maternal, newborn, and child health outcomes remain a major public health challenge in sub-Saharan Africa. Women are 136 times more likely to die than in developed countries. Every two minutes Ethiopia experiences newborn deaths and a woman dies in childbirth.
Also, Education in Ethiopia has been severely stunted by three decades of food insecurity and conflict. The education system has improved since the regime change in 1991, but it largely remains inadequate or simply inaccessible for most children. Class sizes are too large, and teachers are underpaid. Impoverished families are unable to pay for textbooks, school clothes, and other necessities needed. Primary school attendance rates are low, about 80 percent. With secondary school attendance rates as low as 26 percent, families are less likely to emerge from generational poverty. Ethiopian girls face even more of a challenge in receiving a proper education equitable access to education for all children and denial of early childhood education main concerns in Ethiopia, According to a recent study, about 1.03 million children of official school age were not in primary education. Urban poverty is also another unaddressed chronic problem in many Cities in Ethiopia. yet many cities do not meet the primary needs of residents. Many of these households are chronically poor, and tend to be larger, less educated, and have fewer productive assets than other households Poor families,. Poor women and children are affected disproportionately and differently by urban poverty. Besides the city faces challenges around the homeless which is a common feature of urban life. Especially, the number of homeless girls and women in Ethiopia is growing exposing them to psychological, health, social, and economic misery. The problem of Access to clean water and critical shortages of WASH in different parts of the country are also alarming situations, given the current severe drought and the last three years of consecutive failure of rain. The situation exacerbates by the existing level of poverty and various natural (drought and flood) and man-made (political unrest) risks as well as unfavorable trade policies and increases in food prices. Further to this, climatic change, displacement, conflict recurrent drought with erratic annual rainfall, traditional ways of farming, and unstable political and economic conditions remain a challenge for many families. Taken together, the above-illustrated general contexts clearly indicate that this multifaceted problem is not solved by the government alone, it needs multi-stakeholder involvement. In this regard the role of CSOs/NGOs/CBOs is irreplaceable. In view of this, that's why MHO exist to address these challenges by Empowering people out of poverty to contribute to the efforts made by the government and other stakeholders in eradication poverty and to pave the way path to prosperity To achieve this works together and alongside the governmental and non-governmental actors in an effort to improve the well-being of the most vulnerable women and children and their families to ensure all women and children's of Ethiopia who live in under poverty have the opportunity to Empowered, thrive and transformed by giving the opportunities and supports which leads to the development

MHO Believes every child deserves a future. That's why we do whatever it takes every day and including in times of crisis - to ensure children grow up healthy, learning and safe Especially those hardest to reach.. MHO Work with and for communities particularly Work with communities who are experiencing inequality of opportunity and accountable to the community we serve

MHO is an award winner & women headed a non-governmental, organization formed with the aim empowering and changing the personal social and economic status of women and children's of Ethiopia who lives in under abject of poverty by giving the opportunities and supports which leads to development. Long Journey from Gojam to MHO Rehabilitation Center for homeless women with children- Addis Ababa

Full Name: Habtam Mekuria Age: 19 Number of Children: 2 Place of Birth: Gojam Bichna School Level: 6

As she was married at the age of 14 in the traditional way, she was unable to complete her education. When she was a mother of twins at a young age, one of her children suffered from a lack of food due to a health disorder that she faced since birth, and she was under medical supervision while she was at home. He spent weeks on the streets in the bus .She doesn't know where her partner is and what his condition is. During her stay on the street, she stated that it was very difficult to get milk for her child, stating that the street life was terrible. After a week, the relevant governments bodies in the area understood her problem and made her enter a charitable rehabilitation center. She also stated that she is ready to live on her own and that she has a can-do spirit. Her children's health is also in good condition.

WHAT WE DO

MESERET HUMANITARIAN ORGANIZATION (MHO)

Urban Destitute Support Program (UDS)

Urban Poverty is a chronic problem in many Cities in Ethiopia. yet many cities do not meet the primary needs of residents, Many of these households are chronically poor. Besides the city faces challenges around the homeless which is a common feature of urban life. Currently, the number of homeless girls and women in Ethiopia is growing exposing them to psychological, health, social, and economic miseries. They are also vulnerable to the use of drugs, alcohol, and inhaled substances and some of dragged into criminal and violent activities. That's why we're helping vulnerable homeless women and children MHO's UD programs improvement of the economic, educational and social reintegration of homeless women and children by providing basic social and livelihood services

Reaching Out to Street Women with Children in Ethiopia

Across Ethiopia there are thousands of children living on the streets who everyday suffer hunger, violence, poverty and abuse. There are many reasons why children are forced to live on the streets - they may have been affected by HIV/AIDS, extreme poverty or family breakdown, Parental deaths, parental neglect and other social factors such as violence and abuse of children at home or within communities. They may even have been trafficked or abused. In the capital, Addis Ababa this crisis is severe with MHO, only one of eight NGOs/CBOs providing support to full time street children. Through the decades, that's why we're MHO has continued to work to save street children's lives, and that's still what we do today.. MHO project supports homeless children sleeping on the streets in Ethiopia and provide them with food, medicine, shelter, education .and everything they need to build a new life away from the street .Beyond this, MHO works hard to tackle the root problems that led them onto to the streets initially. Our priority is to return each child to a safe and caring family environment

When you sponsor a child, you are helping give one of these orphaned or abandoned children a family and a future. With your child sponsorship, you are directly contributing to the costs of raising the child you are

MHO reached out, every 60 seconds to these vulnerable women and children to help them build a new life away from the street

EDUCATION

1. Educate Ethiopia Children One Pack for One Child

In Ethiopia it's a every parent's dream to be able to provide for their child; to raise them healthy and happy with all the opportunities in the world ahead of them. As a parent when your child is aged for early childhood education, you don't forget to send four children to school and you don't expect and even think your child grow without education. For poor children from poor families you can expect the opposite:

Across Ethiopia, there are millions of children's are out of schools due to poor economic conditions, family unemployment and social crisis, On top this families are not able to pay school fees & provide the necessary and nutritious food and educational materials for their children. Also many children are out of schools and experiences shockingly high rates of hunger, school dropouts

Our pioneering Educate Ethiopia Children One Pack for One Child programs address children's unique needs, giving them early childhood education opportunity children and ensure their continued education by provide educational material supplies including, clothing, medical services, feeding service (school meal), and counseling and socialization service and enable highly vulnerable children's attend their school without any problem That's why we're working in the in the entire country. to ensure every child has access to a quality education, right from the start. . In Ethiopia and in all regions, our work creates lasting change for children, their families and communities - ultimately, transforming the future we all share

We are on the ground alongside them at rural school, listening first and then innovating collaboratively to help enable their success.

2 Child Sponsorship

Equitable access to education for all children and denial of early childhood education are the main concerns in Ethiopia, On top of this low-income families are not able to pay school fees & provide the necessary and nutritious food and educational materials such as books, transportation, school uniforms, school supplies (notebooks, pens, chalk, etc) for their children. As a result, many children and poor youth from disadvantaged and poor communities are out of school in Ethiopia. Children who are the most disadvantaged in Ethiopia include girls, children from very poor and unemployed families children with disabilities, and children living without parents MHO Child Development Sponsorship and Education Support for the Disadvantaged Children and youth unable to access education in Ethiopia provides educational assistance to poor students and underprivileged children It provides Educational materials , monthly pocket money, transportation cost, descent clothes and shoes, blankets, bed sheets, and other necessary supports until they graduate from the universities and colleges ensure no child is left out of school because of lack of educational material supplies

Improve Childrens' Education in Ethiopia

Ethiopian girls face even more of a challenge in receiving a proper education. They are expected to perform housekeeping duties on top of school, and marry young. With two in five girls married by 18 and one in five girls married by 15, many never get a chance for a full education. Girls who do attend school are also more vulnerable to physical violence from teachers and classmates. Overall, social pressure puts girls in Ethiopia at a significant disadvantage for education. MHO has improved poor and underprivileged girl access to education in Ethiopia by providing education support, provision of educational material, accommodation/transport, and female hygiene an empower them through girl club in school for collective action MHO also help poor girl families economically and mentor scheme female hygiene, noon-meal & transportation subsidies to underprivileged girl We also work with parents and caregivers to show them the best ways to teach their children and foster healthy mental, physical and social development

Children EDUCATING MATTERS NOT ONLY TO ENABLE C IN RESOLVING THE INTERCONNECTED CHALLENGES THEY UNIQUELY FACED BUT ALSO BECOME MORE STABLE AND RESILIENT SOCIETY

MHO believes every Girl has a future. That's why we do whatever it takes every day and including in times of crisis - to ensure children grow up healthy, learning and safe. Especially those hardest to reach. But we can't do this important work without your support especially those in poorer households or in crises and conflict zones.

When you don't have what you need to fit in, school can feel like the worst place in the world

CHILDHOOD EDUCATION, CARE, and Development

Early childhood education is determinative of a good educational life. The ages of 0 to 6 constitute the most critical phase in child development. The foundations of children's cognitive, mental, linguistic, physical, and social skills are laid down during this phase. However still today, nearly 36 million children in Ethiopia are poor and lack access to basic social services including access to education for all children. On average, children growing up in disadvantaged homes are two to three years behind their more advantaged peers

The impacts of poverty are severe and far reaching. When they start school, many children in disadvantaged families are behind in basic reading and math skills, lacking the essentials they need to fully participate in their education. Without the skills they need to keep up in class, these students can fall even further behind, making it more difficult for them to stay engaged and motivated at school. The percentage of stunted, wasted, and underweight children below 5 in 2019 was 37%, 7%, and 21%, respectively which is still high even by sub-Saharan African Standard. As result, most children in rural areas are unable to attend school and are mentally and physically stunted due to lack of proper nutrition, while many suffer from a lack of access to early learning. Without early intervention, these children can fall so far

MHO also believes that All children, regardless of sex, ethnic origin, religion, socio-economic and cultural differences, different health and special needs, should have the opportunity to access the education system;. All children can learn. MHO ECD Programme provision access to basic education, clothing, medical services, nutrition & feeding service (and counseling and socialization service

Pulling up the roots of poverty and planting the seeds of change.

Quality Education for Orphan & Vulnerable

Children Orphan and vulnerable children who have either lost one or both parents live in extreme poverty with their guardians with little access to basic needs. In Ethiopia Orphan and vulnerable children make up of about 12% of all children. These children who have lost one or both parents, mostly due to HIV/AIDS, live in extreme poverty with their guardians, are highly vulnerable and have no access to basic needs. After losing one or both of their parents, most of these children are forced to drop out of school to support themselves, their single parents or their guardians who are usually their elder grandparents MHO' OVC educational project covers children's school fees, tutorial lessons, after school meals, school uniforms and materials. Children receive after school meals and tutorial lessons at our drop in center with a library and other services. Brave Hearts helps these children build a bright future through quality education and holistic care. The children have access to healthy after school meals so they remain energized and focused on their studies at our drop in center. Children previously in this project are now studying in university.

MHO believes every Orphan and vulnerable children a future. That's why we do whatever it takes - every day to ensure Orphan and vulnerable children grow up healthy, learning and safe. Especially those Orphan and vulnerable children do not have access to Education. But we can't do this important work without your support. Give now to educate OVC a child in need

Women Economic Empowerment

In Ethiopia Women make up more than half of the total population and make important contributions to the country's socioeconomic development. However, Ethiopian women traditionally have suffered socio-cultural and personal discrimination and have had fewer opportunities than men for personal growth, education, and employment. According to the World Economic Forum (2019) Global Gender Gap Report 2020, Ethiopia ranked 82nd among 153 countries in the Global Gender Gap Index. This wide and pervasive gender gap hinder not only female livelihood but also, but also the potential for poverty alienation and sustainable economic growth on a national level. Although efforts have been made to minimize the gap, still Ethiopian women have been facing a number of challenges. They were neither being offered equal opportunities nor received fair share of the nation's wealth

Strength: the strength of Care Ethiopia is that it has diversified interventions in wider areas of which sustainable women empowerment and gender transformative programs is one of the niche areas

They were neither being offered equal opportunities nor received fair share of the nation's wealth. MHO WEP program Enhancing Women's Health and Well-Being and throughout implementing the following Also Women are a vital part of MHO's community-based efforts to improve basic education, increase access to quality health care and expand economic opportunity for all.
