Why Alhassan Foundation?

Alhassan Foundation

Background

After a tragic car accident in 2011 that resulted in having an 18 year old young teenager to be a wheelchair user; his mother along with a group of 13 friends decided to make a difference when it comes to physical disability in Egypt & Middle East after the challenges they faced and still are.

Vision

To be the leading example developmental foundation in Egypt, ME & Africa that embrace wheelchair/physical disabilities with emphasis on endless possibilities.

Supporting Wheelchair Basketball Players in Egypt

To address these challenges, the federation aims to provide customized sports wheelchairs through partnerships with local and international organizations, ensuring that every player has access to the equipment they need.

Structured training programs led by professional coaches will be launched to strengthen both the physical and technical skills of the athletes. In parallel, awareness campaigns will be conducted to engage the community, highlight the potential of athletes with disabilities, and build broader public support for their inclusion in sports.

Furthermore, regular local tournaments will be organized to expand participation and create structured pathways for athletes to compete at the international level, ultimately raising the profile of Egyptian wheelchair basketball on the global stage.
